About These Charges

StockFlow operates on a brokerage-free equity delivery model. The charges listed above cover specific account services and exception scenarios — such as phone-assisted orders, physical documentation requests, NRI account operations, and debit balance situations — rather than standard order placement, which remains free for equity delivery trades.

For day-to-day equity delivery investing, intraday trading, and mutual fund transactions, no brokerage is charged beyond standard regulatory and statutory fees applicable across the industry.
